

FCC,

I am writing in regards to the expansion of low power FM stations in my listening area. If these LPFM stations are allowed to take priority over our current FM service, our area could lose my favorite radio station: KLOVE, a christian radio station. KLOVE radio station serves the residents of our community greatly by providing contemporary christian music to its listeners. This service to our community is vital. It helps encourage and lift people's spirits. It is a radio station that is positive in its message and would be greatly missed in our community. People who wouldn't normally go to church can hear the good news of Jesus Christ in the privacy of their car or home. Without this radio station, many would not hear an encouraging message all day. It is in the best interest of the public to leave our service as is so that we can continue to receive this station in our area. KLOVE radio station serves me personally everyday. It encourages me and reminds me of the things that are most important and gets my mind off the troubles in my life. If this were taken away from me and the thousands of others who listen, a source of true joy and inspiration would be taken from us. Please do not take away this bright spot in my day...in the day of all of us who are faithful listeners of this station. Thank you for reading this and not changing our stations, Lori Eldredge, San Antonio, TX
